The Intelligencer. WASHINGTON NEWS AND GOSSIP

OPENING OF CONGRESS. WASHINGTON, Dec. 6, 1869.

The second session of the Forty-fire Congress opened with a most disagrees ble day. There was rain this morning sleet this noon and snow this evening ole day. There was rain this morning, sleet this noofs and snow this evening. The storm was so severe and the walk-ing so bad that the attendance at the Capitol was much less than usual, Mr. Thornton was the only one of the Foreign ministers present, though most of the others were represented by their secretaries. For haif an hour before order was called, the floor of each branch of Congress was thronged with people, and there was thronged with people, and there was the beast amount of handshaking and congratulation. Good feeling prevailed, The talk indicated a pleasant and agreeable session. All the galleries were pretty well filled, but none of them crowded, and there was a noticeable viscancy in the diplomatic galieries. Among those on the floor of the Senate during the afternoon, were General Sherman, Governor Lowe, the new Minister to China. Governor Bullock, of Georgia, and Governor Bullock, of Georgia, and Governor Walker, of Virginia. Senor Lemus, late head of the Cuban Junta, was in the Senate gallery, with a number of sympathizers. The regular report shows fully enough what was done in Congress during the day.

GENERAL SATIEPACTION WITH THE MESSAGE.

GENERAL SATISFACTION WITH THE The reading of the message occupied about an hour, and it was listened to with the closest attention in both houses, and the general comment to-night is very favorable to its good sense, night is very favorable to its good sense, clearness of idea and vigor of expression. The Caban lobby is in great wrath at the manner in which the President gives them the cold shoulder, and see clearly that it is not worth while for them to expect much from Congress at present. Senor Lemus looked very gloomy when this part of the message was read. Everybody was glad to hear the President relierate his views of last February on the Alabama claims question. It will be noticed that they are similar in general terms to those taken by Mr. Sumner in his speech on the Johnson-Clarendon treaty. The principal discussion in all peech on the Johnson-Clarendon reaty. The principal discussion in all circles is on the financial part of the message, and on the report of the Secretary of the Treasury. The last named document was not read to Congress, but the tenor of its recommendations soon got abroad. The Eastern members seem more generally to favor an early return to specie payments than those from the West, many of whom talk about an increase of currency. The President's idea of redeeming currency at a fixed price is identical with that presented some weeks ago by Mr. Garfield. The tariff men find the message rather more favorable than they expected it would be, more from what is omitted than is on the financial part of th vorable than they expected it would be, more from what is smitted than from what is smitted than from what is said. The suggestion to remand Georgis back to the condition it was in when the State Legislature seembled took people by anrprise, but it will probably be carried out, and a bill on the subject comes up in the Senate on Wednesday. The recommendation for the repeal of the tenure of t dations of the message and report will be regarded when members have had a chance to carefully consider them but it is certain that the finances are going to have early attention in both branches of Congress.

ESTIMATES FOR THE COMING YEAR. The heads of the various departments are prompt with their estimates for the are prompt with their estimates for the coming year. They are in full as follows: Legislative, $2,833,991; Executive, $2,7380,774; Civil List, $2,7380,754; Civil List, $2,7380,754; Civil List, $2,7380,755; Miltary, $33,345,747; Naval, $24,698,297; Indian Affairs, $5,048,350, Pensions, $30,000,000; Miscellaneous, $21,000,000; Postal service, $12,000,000; total, $210,970,655. To these must be added about $13,500,000 for demanding a from last year, rasking a ticlencies from last year, making a grand aggregate of not far from $225,000,000, exclusively interest on the public debt. A revision of postal and misellaneous estimates will probably re cerisineous estimates with probably probably sult in their reduction somewhat, and it may at once be set down as certain that Congress will not appropriate any such sum as $31,000,000 for public works, unless the views of members undergo a great change.

THE CENSUS SUREDULES.

The chedules presented by the Census Committee are: 1—Population; 2—mortality; 3—agriculture; 4—manufactures, to which is added mining; 5—mercantile, under which each merchant and sales, number of persons employed, and capital invested; 6-social, unchurches, is included all reformators and benevolent institutions: 7-tran portation, to include full returns from Il public carriers and freights, numbe all public carriers and freights, number of employees, profits, expenses and accidents; 8—fisheries. Each of the schedules has been so extended as to cover far greater ground than in the census, while 6, 7 and 8 are wholly new. The bill is the order of the House for Wednesday.

CONSOLIDATION OF THE STAFF CORPS.

The consolidation of the staff corps, as proposed in General Gardeld's bill and recommended by General Sherman, contemplates a union of the Quartermaster, Commissary and Pay Dapartments, to be called the Department of Supply. The Ordnance Bureau was to be merged into the Artillery, and so pass into the line. A second depart-ment was formed of Inspectors and Adjutant Generals. It has just-been ascertained that precisely such a con-solidation as this is now going on in England, it having been brought about by a commission which examined the leading officers, the same as our House Committee did.

NOMINATIONS BY THE PRESIDENT. The President sent to the Senate bout three hundred and fifty nominations to-day. They were not read, and herefore have not been made public, is ascertained from the White House, owever, that they were mostly of ap-olntments to vacancies made in onway and another since last spring, and en from time to time ed in the newspapers, so that there was very little of interest in the list,

COST OF PUBLIC PRINTING. The report of the Public Printer for the year ending September on.

The principal fact of general inexpendi ture of the printing office in the year was $1,507,240, which is about two hundred thousand dollars more than the expense of last year, and $90,000 less than in 1867. He recommends the enlargement of his buildings at an estimated cost of one hundred thousand dollars.
